Salumatics announces senior executive appointment

Mississauga, ON (January 31, 2012) – Salumatics Inc. today announces an appointment to the executive management team. Carlyn Moulton has joined Salumatics as Chief Business Development Officer. An energetic entrepreneur, Carlyn has founded and led business development initiatives for a number of organizations in sectors as diverse as television broadcasting, arts and culture, investigative journalism, charitable organizations, clinical laboratory restructuring, and health care consulting.

As a consultant in the health sector, Carlyn participated in large change management initiatives with the Cleveland Clinic Foundation, the Mayo Clinic, the Capital Health Authority (Edmonton) and the Alberta Ministry of Health and Wellness. She has served as an advisor to the Romanow Commission on the Future of Health Care in Canada, the Commissioner for the Environment and Sustainable Development, provincial deputy ministers of health, and chaired the National Electronic Claims Standards committee, comprised of all ministries of health, federal health agencies, and national representatives for all health providers and private sector insurers. Formerly, she has provided strategic communications services to the Ottawa Hospital, Canada's Chief Scientist (Health Canada), the Pierre Elliott Trudeau Foundation, the Canadian Institutes of Health Research, the Social Sciences and Research Council of Canada and the RCMP.

An active volunteer in her community, she has served on the boards of Nightwood Theatre, Surrey Place Foundation, Taste the County, and the Prince Edward County Community Foundation.

In 1999, she founded THiiNC Information Management and served as the CEO and member of the Board of Directors until 2002. After THiiNC IMI rebranded as Salumatics, Moulton continued to provide strategic advisory services to the company from time to time.

States President and CEO Allan Magnacca, "I'm delighted to welcome Carlyn back to the Salumatics team of health information management experts. This appointment will allow us to move the company forward into additional geographic markets. At the same time, we will continue to serve our valued clients in our core businesses of document conversion and ICD-10 coding."

"The health information management landscape is changing significantly right now, particularly in the U.S.," says Moulton. "Salumatics is a company with great potential for growth. I'm looking forward to working with the team at Salumatics to help the company take advantage of the changes in the marketplace across North America."
